Senate Rejects Kennedy Wage Bill Substitute

GOP Proposal
Loses 54-39

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate late Wednesday rejected a Republican substitute for the minimum wage bill, giving Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy a second major victory on the issue.

The second major test of Wednesday's session resulted in killing a substitute offered by minority leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.). This would have watered down the Democratic bill authored by Kennedy.

Dirksen's proposal lost 54-39.

Earlier, the Senate turned down 56-39 a proposal to knock out nearly all of the coverage of additional workers contained in the Massachusetts senator's measure.

The victories for the Democratic standard bearer came as the Senate finally got down to voting on major provisions of the bill after a week spent in listless debate and political bickering.

"Pallid Substitute," Demos Say

The Dirksen substitute would have boosted the $1 minimum wage to $1.15 instead of $1.25 as in the Kennedy bill for the 23-700,000 workers now covered by the act.

The Republican leader said it would have brought under the law 1,600,000 to two million employees, compared with five million in the Democratic measure.

Dirksen insisted his bill was a realistic one which might have a chance to be accepted by the House and signed by President Eisenhower.

But Democrats called it a "pallid substitute" for even the Eisenhower Administration's original bill which had proposed expanding coverage to 3,146,000 new workers.

Holland Proposal Rejected

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) called it a repudiation of the Republican platform adopted three weeks ago in Chicago which pledged extension of the wage-hour act coverage to several million additional employees.

The initial vote to cut out practically all additional coverage came on an amendment proposed by Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.).

Holland's defeated proposal wouldn't have touched the provisions of Kennedy's bill raising the wage floor from $1 to $1.25. It would have permitted an increase of only about 280,000 workers covered by the law, instead of the five million Kennedy wants brought under it.

Anti-Castro Plot Crushed

HAVANA (UPI)—Loyal Cuban army troops under the personal leadership of Premier Fidel Castro were reported Wednesday to have crushed a planned naval uprising against the government.

Hundreds of navy men, including many of officer rank, were said to have been arrested in the alleged counter-revolutionary conspiracy.

Virtually every naval installation in Cuba was placed under army surveillance after army raiders swooped down on the navy arsenal at Casa Blanca, across the bay from Havana.

A similar army raid was reported on the naval base at near-by Cienfuegos where the ousted dictator, Fulgencio Batista, crushed a conspiracy against his government with heavy loss of life in 1957.

La. Governor Acts To Bar Integration

Davis Takes Over
Orleans School Administration

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Gov. Jimmie H. Davis took over the public schools of New Orleans Wednesday to prevent their integration, in defiance of federal court orders.

U.S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright has ordered New Orleans schools to integrate at the first grade level next month.

Davis signed an executive order saying he is superseding the Orleans Parish School Board and taking over "the exclusive control, management and administration of the public schools formerly under its (New Orleans school board's) jurisdiction."

His executive order directed the schools to be opened Sept. 7. He designated James F. Redmond, former superintendent of the New Orleans Public School District, as his agent to operate the schools on a segregated basis.

Attorney General Jack P. F. Gremlion said Davis' order was authorized by an act of the 1960 Legislature which makes the Legislature the sole authority in Louisiana for designating white and Negro schools.

The same act gives the Legislature sole authority to determine how fast Louisiana schools may be integrated.

New Orleans has the nation's third largest segregated school system. Houston, Tex., has the largest, and Dallas, Tex., the second.

The law under which Davis took over the New Orleans schools stipulates that further lawsuits over the schools must be filed against the state and the Legislature must first give permission for the state to be sued.

Gremlion announced that Davis had taken over the schools. About the same time, U.S. marshals arrived in Baton Rouge to serve Gremlion and Davis with subpoenas in a suit involving the New Orleans School District and integration.

In the suit, 31 New Orleans taxpayers asked federal court to prevent closure of the schools and to delay or suspend the order to integrate next month.

Negro 'Wade-In' Partial Success

By United Press International

A dozen Negro college students went swimming Wednesday at a previously all-white beach at Savannah Beach, Ga., in the first partially successful "wade-in" by Negroes in the Deep South.

Eleven of the youths were promptly ordered from the water and arrested for stripping to their bathing suits in public. Another Negro who accompanied the group did not put on a bathing suit and was not taken into custody.

Crowds of white bathers gathered at the scene and several cursed the Negroes. Shouts of "nigger" and "take them back north" were heard as they were loaded into a squad car and a police ambulance for the trip to jail.

A "wade-in" attempt by Negroes at Biloxi, Miss., earlier this summer touched off interracial violence and near riots, and the Negro bathers were attacked and beaten by groups of whites.

Earlier Hashfield led police to a spot upstream where he said he dumped the body of the girl Tuesday.

Sgt. Wendolin Opel, state police detective, and Sheriff Robert E. Shelton said Hashfield orally admitted killing the girl.

Police said Hashfield reported he met the girl in front of a Boonville tavern and stopped to help her pick up some pennies she had dropped on the sidewalk.

Hashfield said Avril accepted his offer of a ride—something her parents had warned her not to do.

Personal Income In U.S. Hits Record Annual Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said Wednesday a federal pay raise and a spurt in construction work pushed the personal income of individual Americans to a record annual rate of 407 billion dollars in July.

The increase over June was slight, however—one billion dollars or about a fourth of one percent.

Partly offsetting the effects of the federal pay hike and a pickup in contract construction work were dips in manufacturing payrolls and farm income.

The Commerce Department's monthly study of personal income was closely in line with earlier economic reports which showed relative midsummer stability in industrial production, employment and retail sales.

These details were given in the report: Wage and salary payments in the construction industry expanded at the rate of more than 500 million dollars a year. A similar gain was posted for federal payrolls as a result of the July 1 wage increases for Civil Service workers.

However, manufacturing payrolls were down more than 500 million, largely because of low employment in industries producing primary metals and transportation equipment.

As a result of these and other economic cross currents, the advance in total wage and salary payments was held to 500 million dollars, on an annual basis.

One Killed, 20 Hurt In Propellant Plant Blast At Indian Head

INDIAN HEAD, Md. (AP)—A night shift had begun work at 4 p.m. The injured suffered only cuts and bruises, Capt. Galvani said, and only two were kept overnight in the base hospital.

Galvani said the building where the men were working received "moderate damage." He said the men first thought it was their building which had blown up. There was no one in the magazine.

The two blasts in a flat, heavily wooded area left a hole in the ground which Capt. Galvani described as "moderate crater." Two railroad freight cars 75 feet away were damaged but not derailed or demolished.

The Indian Head plant is operated by the Potomac River Naval Command, of which it is a part, and is not to be confused with the Naval Gun Factory in Washington, D.C.

The plant occupies roughly 10 square miles at the edge of Indian Head and its main gate faces the town's main shopping center. The explosions were three-quarters of a mile from the gate.

Asked what possibly might have set it off, he said: "I don't know. Of course, heat could cause it but there was no heat in this magazine so that couldn't have been the cause."

The magazine was about 1,000 feet from a three-story production building where the dead man and most of the injured were working. The explosions rocked the area just 30 minutes after the

Atomic Carrier To Be Launched On September 23

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The world's first nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, the Enterprise, will be launched Sept. 23 at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., the Navy announced Wednesday.

The new carrier is equipped with eight nuclear reactors and will be capable of cruising for indefinite periods without refueling. The 85,350-ton ship will be more than 1,100 feet long and will have a complement, less its air group, of 215 officers and 3,082 enlisted men.

Dag May Defer U.N. Session Until Saturday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld yielded to African pressure Wednesday night and agreed to summon the Security Council for a showdown session on the Congo, probably Saturday.

The official response to queries was that no decision had been taken on the date for the latest Congo crisis session. But informed sources said after African leaders held a two-hour session with Hammarskjöld that the council meeting "probably" would be Saturday.

A Congolese delegation, headed by the vice president of Premier Patrice Lumumba's government, was en route here. It left Leopoldville Wednesday night in a Soviet plane and was expected here late Thursday.

Hammarskjöld originally intended to convoke the council on Thursday to seek a clear cut endorsement of his decision to send white troops of the U.N. force in to the dissident and wealthy Katanga Province without first asking either the blessing or the help of Lumumba's government.

Russia aligned itself solidly behind Lumumba's outspoken criticism of Hammarskjöld's contention that to have included the Congolese in the Katanga operation would have violated the declared U.N. policy of neutrality in the Congo's internal disputes.

In addition to wanting a delay in the council meeting to await the arrival of the Congolese delegation—which Hammarskjöld had promised to Lumumba before he left Leopoldville last weekend—the Africans wanted a chance for a delegation from Ghana to go to Katanga and seek to reason with its provincial president, Moise Tshombe.

The railroad immediately denounced the strike call as without justification and said the dispute could have been settled if the union had been willing to accept recommendations of a neutral referee and a presidential fact-finding board.

Negotiations collapsed soon after they began for the first time since July 13. The disagreement centered on working rules.

Michael Quill, president of the union, called a system-wide strike of 20,000 maintenance men employed on the railroad from New York to St. Louis.

Describes Self At Soviet Trial As Penitent Spy

Prosecution Appears Ready To Press Exploitation Angle

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The espionage trial of Francis Gary Powers is going into its second day Thursday with the Soviet prosecution expected to press efforts to show his U2 flight fits a U.S. policy carrying the risk of war.

The first day's session ended with Powers' personal story in the record. To the military court he portrayed himself as a penitent spy, scared and repelled by the idea of his high-altitude flight over Soviet territory.

Further questioning of Powers is possible Thursday, and other witnesses may be called to back ground or bolster the broad Soviet indictment which calls the U2 flight part of a calculated U.S. policy.

This indictment cites statements by President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter after the flight was first exposed. These statements, the indictment charges, confirmed the existence of hostile activities by the United States, "expressed in repeated incursions by United States planes into the air space of the U.S.S.R. for intelligence purposes."

The indictment says the Powers flight might have had grave consequences—"There is nothing to guarantee that any such plane appearing over Soviet territory does not have a deadly load."

Business Flying, Not Spying

Opening hours of the trial gave a hint of Soviet intentions to separate Powers personally from U.S. administration policy.

The prosecution drew from Powers the observation that his business was flying, not spying.

The handsome American flier pleaded guilty to piloting the jet and manipulating its intelligence-gathering equipment. But these things were done under unbreakable orders, he testified, and he knew nothing of the secret aspects of his job beyond being able to guess its espionage purpose.

Powers was arraigned on his 31st birthday in a brilliant glare of world publicity before the military section of the Soviet Supreme Court.

The espionage charges against him are punishable by a 7-15 year prison term or death, but as the questioning progressed the death sentence seemed a more and more unlikely outcome.

The general prosecutor, Roman A. Rudenko, and the appointed defense counsel, Mikhail I. Griniov, seemed to be trying to picture Powers as a young man exploited by his government for purposes of international intrigue.

Soviet authorities have made it clear they consider U. S. foreign policy is on trial with Powers.

Family Watches Proceedings

Powers testified he had heard that as a direct result of his flight the summit conference in Paris failed to materialize in mid-May and the invitation to President Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union was canceled.

"I suppose it (the flight) increased tension in the world," the flier said. "I am sincerely sorry I had anything to do with it."

Looking on in the ornate Hall of Columns were the flier's wife, Barbara, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., anxiety and grief showing in their faces as they tensely watched the proceedings.

A battery of Soviet scientific witnesses was on hand. So were many members of Moscow's diplomatic colony, more than 250 Soviet correspondents and foreign newsmen from all parts of the world.

And such new systems as the Navy's Polaris missile-launching submarines.

Gates said he considered his decision "the most important" he had made in his seven years in the Pentagon.

Gates said his decision would centralize planning for all-out nuclear warfare but would decentralize the actual execution of the plans by the various senior commanders.

Gates said that Gen. Power would continue as strategic air commander and would have as a deputy a three-star officer of another service, probably from the Navy. Power will organize a staff of about 40 top specialists to develop a long-range target program that will be under constant intercontinental missiles, bombers, review.

Gates told reporters the decision to centralize strategic target planning rejected the concept of a separate strategic force to exercise direct operational control of all intercontinental missiles, bombers, review.

Soviet television, motion picture and still cameramen worked incessantly under brilliant lights in the glittering, mirrored old hall, once the scene of gay czarist gatherings and later on the grim Stalinist purge trials of the 1930s.

Powers told of his hard work getting through college, of his working-family background, and then his grab for a secret U.S. government job paying him $30,000 a year. He said this was about the same as he would have received as first pilot for a U.S. commercial airline if he had been able to line up such work, as he had wanted after getting out of the U.S. Air Force.

Eisenhower Gently Prods Lawmakers For 'Lot Of Action'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower gently prodded Congress Wednesday to pack "a lot of action" into its short election year session.

There isn't any reason it can't, Eisenhower told a news conference, when it passed 436 bills in two weeks last year.

The President was pretty mild about nudging the Democratic-controlled Congress—no real, hard jabs from a man who now is ready to take a more passive, detached role in politics.

But the chief executive did bristle at the Soviet Union, and at the idea that the United States has blundered in handling the Cuban problem.

Eisenhower said he didn't regard U2 pilot Francis Powers' confession of espionage on a flight over the U.S.S.R. last May as evidence that he has been brainwashed. But he did protest that Powers was deprived of the right to consult with U.S. officials in Moscow and to choose his own lawyer—a right established by international usage and custom.

As for the Soviet propaganda line that the United States itself is on trial along with Powers, Eisenhower indignantly called this a distortion of fact.

Declaring the Russians have no case whatever, Eisenhower said that "The number of spies that we have caught," and cases of bribery and subversion proved all over the world, "just denies any validity whatsoever to this kind of charge."

Eisenhower showed signs of irritation, too, when Sarah McClelland of the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader referred to "actions and policy in the State Department on the things that brought about the Communist encroachment in Cuba." She asked Eisenhower whether he would "tell us who were making the mistakes."

The President said he had heard of no circumstances to justify such an inquiry. And he added crisply: "And I know of no blunder in which I can attach blame to anyone for...and I don't know of any reason for apologizing for what we have done in the past."

As for the situation in Congress, Eisenhower took a tranquil approach.

Democrats and Republicans on Capitol Hill have been shaking fingers at one another and trading accusations of delaying vital legislation.

But Eisenhower wasn't ready to tie a "do-little" tag to Congress. "If we are thinking of the public interest and not just of political maneuvering," he said, "why, there can be done what needs to be done, and then if the voters are dissatisfied with either side, why, they can make their views known."

Silver Spring's 1960 Population 66,119

WASHINGTON (AP) — Silver Spring, Md., has a 1960 population of 66,119, the Census Bureau reported Wednesday.

The count showed 20,738 housing units in the community.

Silver Spring is unincorporated and so the bureau in making its count used the boundaries followed by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission.

The count places Silver Spring at the top of unincorporated Maryland communities in the Washington area.

The population and number of housing units in other unincorporated area communities: Bethesda, 55,843 and 16,627; Wheaton, 54,583 and 13,626; Hillcrest Heights, Prince Georges County, 15,360 and 4,222; Langley Park, 11,551 and 3,964; Suitland-Silver Hill, 10,279 and 3,221.

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP) — Three teen-age children of a Birmingham Negro integration leader were arrested here after an interstate bus driver said they caused a disturbance on the bus.

The three are the children of the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Baptist minister and president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights.

Bond was set at $300 each. The three were traveling from Montegale, Tenn., to Birmingham, Ala., when the driver, who was not identified, stopped here and made a complaint to police. The nature of the reported disturbance was not immediately learned.

Nixon, Leading Poll, Says He's "Encouraged"

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was "highly encouraged" and Sen. John F. Kennedy "not disillusioned" Wednesday by a poll showing Nixon ahead in the presidential race.

Nixon's press aide, Herbert G. Klein, told newsmen that while the GOP standard-bearer is highly encouraged by the poll he intends to campaign "as if we were behind."

President Eisenhower told his news conference he is sure Nixon knows better than to let some "straw in the wind" like a poll either discourage him or make him complacent.

Eisenhower expressed the opinion Nixon will wage a fight "right down to the last minute of the campaign, because he is too old a campaigner to take anything for granted."

Nixon went to Greensboro, N.C., for a speech Wednesday night.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, "feels he is slightly behind now," Pierre Salinger, his press aide, said.

But, Salinger added, Kennedy "has been behind before," and "has always felt it would be a tough, hard fight."

The Gallup poll, which caused all the comment, said a question of who voters would choose if the balloting were conducted now gave 50 per cent to Nixon, 44 per cent to Kennedy with 6 per cent undecided.

"There is no question that a poll taken right after the Republican convention would be to the advantage of the Nixon-Lodge ticket," Salinger commented.

Kennedy, troubled with a throat condition following sinus congestion, has cut down on his talking. He stirred up some excitement Wednesday when he appeared on the Capitol grounds before a group of Brooklyn, N.Y., navy yard workers.

Robert F. Kennedy, who talked for his brother—who passed him notes on what to say—said the senator would look into the complaint of the navy yard workers that the government plans to build a new aircraft carrier in private yards.

Describes Self

Favorable Impression
By the time the first day's session ended, Powers' relatives evidently had the impression that he had come off fairly well.

"That's my boy, right down the line. Every word was his. His mother thought he had lost some weight, but he looked normal otherwise," his father commented.

The flier's wife, whose eyes seemed to leave the witness box while he testified, seemed exhausted by the strain. A Virginia attorney advising her, Alexander W. Parker, said she seemed pleased by Powers' performance but could not evaluate it, nor could she guess whether her husband had been brainwashed.

If he had, said Parker, they did an "excellent job of it, because we are convinced the boy was telling the truth, or thought he was telling the truth."

Powers constantly tried to seek out his family, but the glare of the lights probably prevented him from seeing them. He got a glimpse of his wife at the end of the lunch break, and waved to her.

For more than four hours the flier was under questioning by the prosecution. The questioning was persistent but spectators who have watched the American courts could hardly consider it a brow-beating type.

The prosecution has a double aim. One is to convict Powers, hardly an effort since he pleaded guilty.

The second aim is bigger. That is to show that United States planes flew along and over the border of the Soviet Union with electronic equipment to search out airfields, rocket bases and radar stations.

The atmosphere hardly could have been more dismal from Powers' viewpoint. He was tried before three generals, the top one Lt. Gen. Victor Borisoglebsky. Soldiers stood guard at his elbow. His trial was in a language strange to him and he got what was going on only through translators.

The three judges in gray-green uniforms assured him of his right to challenge anything he did not like including the judges themselves.

Kremlin Policy On Trial Along With U.S. Flier

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst

The spy trial of Francis Gary Powers is a Soviet attempt to convict U.S. policy in the world's opinion. But Soviet policy, too, is on trial and the Kremlin has much at stake.

The world is watching the Powers trial for an indication of Soviet intentions. Might its results slam the door on prospects for new high-level talks on world tensions?

The world's Communists, too, are watching for clues. To them it is important to know just how real the current Soviet spy scare is. In the light of past performances, the spy scare would be necessary if an internal Communist world brawl was brewing.

But if the Kremlin can deal leniently with Powers, is it an indication that the need for the spy scare is disappearing? Can it mean that Nikita Khrushchev has carried the day in the raging world Communist debate over the advisability of his "peaceful coexistence" policies?

Khrushchev has left little doubt that he is completely sold on the idea that while he negotiates communism can expand effectively

Naval Academy May Seek Severn Tunnel

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A tunnel under the Severn River to connect facilities of the Naval Academy now spread out on both sides of the river may be considered in future expansion plans of the academy.

Capt. John J. Cassidy Jr., public works officer, has proposed the underwater link as a means of easy access between the academy's 365-acre plant on the Annapolis side of the Severn and 195 acres on the north shore.

He said it is not beyond the talking stage, however, and is only a possibility at this point.

Cassidy mentioned the project in a discussion of the academy's future plans at a meeting of naval officers and Annapolis civic leaders making up the Annapolis-Naval Academy Joint Advisory Committee.

Venezuela Seen Softening Stand At Conference

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—

The American foreign ministers conference got down to business Wednesday with sunny weather, soothing speeches and a hint Venezuela may be softening in its project to punish the Dominican Republic.

Venezuela originally planned to offer a resolution asking all possible non-military penalties—called sanctions—against its old foe in the Caribbean under the 1947 Rio de Janeiro Treaty. The penalties could include suspension of diplomatic relations and curtailment of trade.

Venezuela has charged that the regime of Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo, who retired from the Ciudad Trujillo political stage two weeks ago, masterminded a June assassination attempt against Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt.

This is a problem for the foreign ministers in their sixth conference. It opened formally in the packed National Theater Wednesday with a speech by Costa Rican President Mario Echandi.

But conference sources indicated

Bank Robber Receives Nine Years

BALTIMORE (AP) — U.S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins has sentenced Robert L. Couch, 22, of La Plata, to nine years in prison for assisting in a St. Marys County bank robbery which netted $27,250.

The term was dated from May 20 when Couch was committed for federal prison officials.

Couch pleaded guilty to his part in the robbery of the County Trust Co. at Mechanicsville last Sept. 4 and testified against his co-defendant, Charles E. Lawrenson, 42, of Washington, D.C.

Couch claimed that Lawrenson left him standing on a street corner after the holdup and never shared the loot.

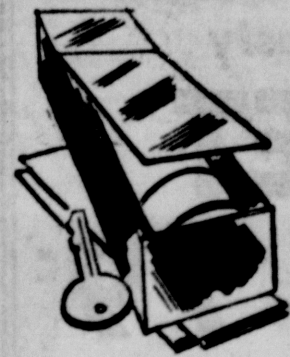

Lawrenson has appealed a 20 year prison term. He was tried last May.

When arrested in a Miami Beach, Fla. hotel two days after the holdup, FBI agents found $22,503 in cash in the room. Lawrenson insisted the money was race track winnings.

Kennedy Voter Drive Set For Baltimore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), Democratic presidential nominee, announced Wednesday campaigns to register eligible voters will start soon in Baltimore, Md. and Dade County (Miami), Fla.

A Kennedy statement said a special pilot project will be started Friday, Aug. 19, in Baltimore under the direction of Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-N.J.), chairman of the Democrats' National Voters' Registration Committee.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said Thompson will be assisted by four experienced workers and more than 100 Maryland volunteers in a house-to-house canvass in some 60 Baltimore precincts.

He said it is believed between 200,000 and 300,000 Baltimore citizens are unregistered. He said this compares with less than 450,000 who were qualified to vote in the 1958 election.

Virginia Plans Rees Trial If He Escapes With Life

SPOTSYLVANIA, Va. (AP) — Virginia will seek the right to try Melvin Davis Rees, accused slayer of the Jackson family, if a Maryland trial brings "anything less than the death penalty."

Commonwealth's Attorney T. Stokely Coleman said Wednesday.

The Spotsylvania County prosecutor and Commonwealth's Attorney W. Earle Crak of Louisa County conferred with Justice department officials in Washington Tuesday about the case.

Rees, 31-year-old Hyattsville, Md., musician, is awaiting trial in U.S. District Court in Baltimore on charges of killing Mrs. Mildred Jackson and her daughter, Susan, 5, in January, 1959.

Their bodies were found two months later near Gambrills, Md. shortly after the bodies of Carroll V. Jackson, the husband and father, and another child were found in Spotsylvania County. The family was kidnapped near their home in Louisa County.

Rees also is charged in the 1957 slaying of a Maryland woman.

"It is our intention," Coleman said, "to seek action designed toward the trial of Rees in Virginia in event of the failure of other authorities to impose the death penalty."

"One thing of course which would preclude the possibility of his being tried here would be his commitment for mental reasons."

Beall, Butler For Wage Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 56-39 roll call vote by which the Senate Wednesday defeated a minimum wage amendment of Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.) that would have eliminated most of the provisions for bringing about five million additional workers under protection of the wage-hour law included:

Republicans for the amendment: Beall and Butler of Maryland.

Hagerstown Probes Death Of Wild Fowl

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—A mysterious ailment is killing wild fowl on the Hagerstown park lake.

The malady, something akin to food poisoning, has wiped out more than 100 young ducks, swans and geese in the lower lake area in the past two weeks.

The Hagerstown Park Board has enlisted the services of the Agriculture Extension Service at the University of Maryland to combat the problem.

Deacon Held In Fatal Shooting Outside Church

BALTIMORE (AP) — A church deacon is being held by police for the fatal shooting of a man who persisted in drinking on the church steps during services.

The victim was identified as Louis Griffin, Negro.

Police said the deacon, Roosevelt Robinson, 57, Negro, was held on a charge of shooting Griffin.

The shooting followed outside the United House of Prayer for All People Tuesday night.

Robinson said he found Griffin sitting on the steps drinking wine. He refused to leave and when Robinson tried to force Griffin to move on, police were told, the deacon was threatened with a knife. The shooting followed.

helps strip inches from hips, thighs, waist and midriff!

NEW REST 'N CYCLE

REST 'N CYCLE — A UNIQUE DEVELOPMENT. For the first time in the history of exercise devices, science has at last developed REST 'N CYCLE — a machine uniquely designed to let you trim away unwanted inches while you remain in a prone position. Now the MIDDLE AREA (areas from the knees to the midriff) is slimmed, toned, conditioned and firmed more directly than ever before!

THE PROBLEM OF THE MIDDLE AREA. The greatest problem areas of the human figure (both the female and male figures alike) are between the midriff and the knees — the MIDDLE AREA. The signs of a shapeless, unattractive silhouette begin when muscles that once were taut, begin to lose their firm youthful appearance. Muscle tissue begins to sag. "Loose tissue bulge" begins to develop above the girdle line. Bulging hips and embarrassing "thigh bulge" begin to pile up. Lack of exercise, physical neglect and improper diet begin their build-up of fatty deposits in the MIDDLE AREA. Even proper diet, without proper exercise may still leave stretched-out tissue, loose flabby skin, bulges that need to be slimmed down, redistributed, conditioned, toned-up and firmed.

THE "PRONE" POSITION OF REST 'N CYCLE. Because of your body's position as you use REST 'N CYCLE — a prone, lying-down position — all the slimming benefits, tissue-tightening effects, are directed to the MIDDLE AREA — the area that needs ugly inches trimmed away. As you REST 'N CYCLE, you lie completely relaxed on your back, chest fully expanded, stomach muscles flattened, weight evenly distributed. Your body is in a completely neutral position, prepared for the slimming down process, the peeling away of unwanted, unsightly flabby inches, from the troublesome MIDDLE AREA.

REST 'N CYCLE. Your Way to Uplifted and Improved Posture. The special exercise booklet you receive with REST 'N CYCLE prescribes specific routines for slimming down certain areas and building up special body muscles — toning and firming the pectoral muscles for the development of an uplifted, youthful appearing silhouette — firming the bicep and triceps muscles to help rid you of flabbiness in the upper arms.

REST 'N CYCLE is designed on the principle of mechanical balance and counterbalance to give you safe, stress-and-strain-free exercise. Now a trim, youthful-looking figure can be yours at an unprecedented low price. Start enjoying the wonderful awareness of a slimmed-down, uplifted silhouette. Strip away inches and see your new beauty emerge!

West Virginia Census Shows Wide Variety

Ridgeley Listed As Big Loser

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two West Virginia towns more than doubled their population in the last 10 years, the Census Bureau reported Wednesday in revised totals for the Mountain State.

The report showed that 11 other West Virginia communities in a list of 120 with a population of more than 1,000 showed declines of 20 per cent or more during the decade.

Biggest gain percentage-wise was recorded by Ravenswood, 193.7 per cent, from 1,175 to 3,451. Nitro jumped from 3,314 to 6,834—a 106.8 per cent increase.

But the largest gain numerically was nearly 15,000 at Parkersburg where the population rose from 29,684 in 1950 to 44,611 this year, a 50.3 per cent increase.

Others which are half again as large or larger include Oceana, Wyoming County, 1,373 to 2,292, a 66.9 per cent increase; Ripley 1,813 to 2,753, 51.8 per cent, and St. Albans 9,870 to 14,937, 51.3 per cent.

The report was based on latest census figures which showed West Virginia with a population of 1,847,936, a 7.9 per cent decline from the 2,005,552 census of 1950.

Biggest decline among the state's 55 counties was 28.2 per cent, from 98,887 to 70,963 in McDowell County, in the heart of the southern West Virginia coal fields which have been hard-pressed economically.

Largest gain was in Wood County, thanks to Parkersburg's growth. Wood gained from 66,540 to 78,254—a 17.6 per cent.

Keystone, McDowell County, had the largest drop among 11 towns showing a 20 per cent or more decline. The coal-mining town was listed with a population of 1,433 this year compared to 2,594 in 1950.

The 10 others with 20 per cent or more declines included: Ridgeley, Mineral County, 29.4 per cent; Bramwell, Mercer County, 25.7 per cent; War, 24.9 per cent; Smithers, Fayette County, 23.5 per cent; Williamson, 23.1 per cent; Mt. Hope, 23.3 per cent; Anawalt, McDowell County, 22.8 per cent; Richwood, 22.6 per cent, and Welch, 20.4 per cent.

Charleston was listed as the state's largest city with a population of 44,611, a 15 per cent rise over 1950. Huntington is second at 32,742, a 4.2 per cent decline from 1950.

Others in the top 10, in order, are Wheeling, 52,978; Parkersburg, 44,611; Clarksburg 28,159; Fairmont 27,352; Morgantown 22,559; Bluefield, 19,091; Beckley 18,364 and South Charleston 16,741.

Fat Payoffs Reported As Probe Begins

Crime Commission Hears Testimony

By CARLO J. SALZANO
United Press International
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—
Testimony concerning rumors of alleged fat payoffs by White Sulphur Springs gambling operators for protection from police raids was given before the West Virginia Crime Commission Wednesday.

A figure was $34,000 a year mentioned as an amount which three former State Police officers said they had heard was paid by the plush Continental Club. A present sergeant on the force who one of the ex-officers said passed the report to him denied it.

In the most eventful day of the Crime Commission's brief existence, this was some of the testimony.

State Police Supt. Hazen H. Fair said it was not mandatory for members of the force to advise him in advance of planned vice raids. Retired captain C. L. Hawkins and Major B. E. Wright insisted that Fair did require such advance notice.

Denies Circulating Rumor
— Retired captain C. L. Walker said Sgt. C. R. Dawson, recently transferred from Lewisburg to Martinsburg, relayed to him the reports of alleged payoffs and instructions that Dawson should not raid the Colonial Club. Appearing later as a witness, Dawson was told what Walker had said "It's not true."

— Maj. Gen. William E. Blake, state adjutant general, denied that he had passed the word to Dawson, through Greenbrier Hotel security officer Harry Welch, to "lay off" White Sulphur gambling and liquor spots. Walker said he was told this by Dawson. Dawson denied it and Welch, also among witnesses summoned, denied making such a statement.

— Dawson testified he was aware of gambling in Greenbrier County and made reports to his company commander but "it seemed like there was a hesitancy on someone's part to go ahead with any raids."

— Lee W. Waldern, Beckley, a federal alcohol tax agent, said he personally witnessed liquor and gambling violations in four White Sulphur night spots. He said he made reports to State Police and the Greenbrier County sheriff's office but knew of no raids being made.

— Fair said State Police discovered nothing, following federal raids in the Northern Panhandle earlier this year in which truckloads of coin machines on which federal tax stamps were unpaid, that would warrant additional arrests by the state.

Underwood Mentioned
— Gov. Cecil H. Underwood's name was mentioned in the testimony by Wright, former second-in-command of the force. He said at the end of a conversation with Underwood in which the governor discussed enforcement of gambling and liquor laws with him, Underwood asked "if I knew a man from Hancock County who had visited him the day before."

Wright said he knew the unnamed man, and said Underwood then commented: "I know where we can get $1,500 a month and we might as well take it. If we don't somebody else will." Wright did not clarify this.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Two's Never A Crowd

Many single girls sign up for single rooms in a college dormitory, thinking that "one's company, two's a crowd" when there's studying to be done. Any career girl with school years just behind her will tell you that such single-minded thinking is often a mistake. Getting along with a roommate is helpful education for the give-and-take of any later career — marriage included.

There are ways and means of being a preferred roommate, just as there are rules for playing any game that involves two people. You're the center of your own world, naturally, but you're not the center of the whole wide world. Your roommate has a right to her ideas and her possessions, too.

Your first rule should be that of share and share alike. You put your belongings away, she takes care of hers, and you combine efforts to keep your room shipshape.

Should you decide that borrowing is a reasonable way to enlarge both your wardrobe and hers, see that all things — from books to boots — are returned in good condition.

Like jazz? How about your roommate? If she's sold on classical music, she'll appreciate your sparing her day-long jazz concerts. If she's exposed to it once in a while, maybe you'll convince her she likes it, and perhaps she'll have you liking the classics. You'll broaden your thinking by learning to accept, not to sneer at, others' tastes.

That's exhibiting your own good nature, and not taking advantage of another's. Try not to take advantage — ever.

Mind your manners, your tongue and your temper. Don't betray secrets or burden a roommate with too many of your own. Don't make yourself and your roommate a closed corporation. Where one goes, it isn't always necessary that the other go, too. The larger your circle of friends, the better.

Put it this way: The most congenial roommates are friends, but not "best" friends; they're individual personalities, but not selfishly individual.

TOMORROW: Night creams.

Moorefield Lions Club Will Assist Area Fair

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — The Moorefield Lions Club meeting Monday night at the Hotel McNeill moved to assist the Tri-County Fair Association with volunteer workers during the three-day event.

A dozen members of the club volunteered to assist Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in taking up tickets or at any other jobs assigned by the association.

The Lions voted to erect a Christmas tree at Christmas time as a community tree. Efforts will be made for the merchants to decorate the town and the decorations will be using the West Virginia Centennial theme if these units are available. West Virginia's Centennial will be held over a four-year period culminating in 1963.

S. L. Dodd reported that the sign at the junction of U. S. Routes 220 and 50 inviting travelers to the South Branch Valley area had been cleaned up and the weeds and brush removed.

A vote of thanks was passed to be extended to Mrs. Robert Baker and Mrs. Tom McNeill for decorating the Lions Club float during the Poultry Festival for the parade.

Rev. Wallen Bean, son of member O. R. Bean, was a guest of the club.

A film on the Little League was shown to the club members through the courtesy of C. R. Powers.

WM Coal Data Outlined In Bureau Report

A decline in the production of coal and in the number of men employed in the industry in Allegheny and Garrett counties is noted in the 1959 report of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, Frank T. Powers, director, announced.

Cumberland coal trade statistics compiled from official sources in the accounting department of the Western Maryland Railway Company show that last year a total of 3,731,627 net tons of coal originated on the railroad destined to and passing through the Queen City.

The 37th annual report of the Bureau of Mines points out that the overall figure included 3,692,743 tons to the Western Maryland; 23,316 tons to the Pennsylvania Railroad and 15,568 tons to the B&O. The coal originated on Georges Creek and the Cumberland Branch of the Western Maryland.

Tonnage by coal seam in Allegheny County last year totaled 206,634.18.

A breakdown of the figure shows 66,832.12 tons of Bakers town; 43,875.17 Pittsburgh; 38,198.13 Tyson; 37,997 Franklin; 13,252.16 Waynesburg; 3,419 Kittinging; 2,632 Freeport and 427 Parker.

Garrett County's total tonnage of 633,029.11 included 169,827.15 tons of Freeport; 166,585.13 Kittinging; 163,655.14 Bakerstown; 67,516.12 Clarion; 49,035 Franklin; 15,693.02 Pittsburgh; 502 C. Prime; and 213.15 Brush Creek.

Tonnage by basin amounted to 839,664.09 tons including 368,803.13 Georges Creek; 334,260.04 Upper Potomac; 70,111.05 Castleman; 65,718.12 Upper Youghiogheny and 770.15 Lower Youghiogheny.

Other statistics show that during 1959 a total of 218 inspections of mines in Allegheny County including 11 joint inspections were made by Harry B. Buckley, Oakland, James H. Close and Thomas B. Powell, both of Frostburg, mine inspectors for the Bureau.

In Garrett County during the same period, 250 inspections and 20 joint inspections were made by the three men.

Seventy-five permits for strip mining were issued last year. The report shows 20 operations were completed and three operations were completed and forfeited of bond made. The revised strip mining laws of Maryland went into effect June 1 last year.

VFW Picnic Set Sunday At Smouse's

The annual family picnic of Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held Sunday at Smouse's picnic area. Harry Reiber, chairman, said the outing will be held from 9 a. m. until 7 p. m. with corn on the cob and bean soup on the menu.

Post officers will assist the chairman who said there will be special treats for the children. The entertainment during the afternoon will include a softball game.

The picnic is open to members of the post, social members, guests and children.

The four delegates who will represent the local post at the national VFW convention August 21-27 at Detroit include Paul Moore, past commander, Peter J. Carpentieri, Earl Smith and Roy Hawkins.

William Webb has been named chairman of the local membership committee and will be assisted by Vernon Winner and William Linn. A membership drive is expected to begin next month.

$90,000 Loading Deck To Be Built By Local Bakery

The city engineer's office yesterday issued a permit to the Schmidt Baking Company, Frederick Street, which plans to construct a $90,000 loading deck at the local plant.

The one-story brick block building with built-up roof will front 137 feet on Frederick and 105 feet on Lowell Avenue.

The structure will be built by the George F. Hazelwood Company and the estimated cost will be $90,000. The permit had been approved by the Zoning Board of Appeals on June 23 this year.

Attorney Urges

Trending is the use of a price index to recompute, at today's price levels, property purchased in the past.

Using an original cost rate base for all categories, McLean arrived at a rate base of $10,214,800 as compared with the C&A's figure of $12,248,440.

Figures Differ

Computing his figures for a 12-month test period ending Aug. 31, 1959, McLean said C&A earned $210,193, less than permitted by the 6.5 per cent allowed by the PSC in May 1958.

To make up this difference and to pay taxes, McLean said, the company would have to earn an additional $419,547 a year.

In his computations, McLean disallowed certain estimated tax increases, a projected pay increase for employees which never was consummated, and certain allowances for attrition.

He also disallowed increases in Old Age Survivors Insurance and rents for property in Cumberland and Frostburg on the grounds they took effect too long after the test period used in determining the rate base.

"Doesn't Make Sense"
McLean said "mathematically, it does not make sense" to project expenses past the test period while not doing the same for revenues and the rate base.

"If additional expenses occur after the test period," he said, "the company should ask for rate relief."

In previous testimony, P.J. D'Agostino, chief rate engineer for C&A, said the proposed minimum cost would increase from $2.15 to $2.60 a month for non-heating customers should be $1.83, but suggested the charge he left at the current $2.15 level for the present. He also recommended the $2.95 charge for heating customers be left unchanged.

Cesaletti suggested rate schedules to produce the additional revenue which McLean indicated C&A was entitled to receive.

Cancer Unit Has Need Of Old Sheets

The Allegheny County Chapter of the American Cancer Society has issued an appeal for old bed sheets to be used by needy cancer patients.

Mrs. Regina M. Cioni, executive secretary of the unit, said a similar appeal was well received in June, but additional sheets are still needed.

Mrs. Cioni said the results of the appeal for the sheets were gratifying and the chapter expresses its thanks for the sheets that were received.

However, now the supply is running low and additional sheets are needed.

Mrs. Cioni explained cancer dressings are furnished by the Cancer Society but the unit must depend on the general public to contribute old sheets.

Approximately 30 patients require sheets, which must be burned following use. They cannot be laundered and used a second time.

Persons interested in contributing old bed sheets may take them to county chapter headquarters at 128 Union Street between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. or arrange to have them picked up by calling the office at PA 2-2145 between those hours.

Logue Reported Still 'Critical'

Attaches at Preston Memorial Hospital, Kingwood, W. Va., last night reported Harley Logue, 415 Central Avenue, still on the critical list.

Mr. Logue was thrown head first through a caboose window when a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad freight train stopped abruptly Sunday night near Terra Alta.

Attaches said the local railroad is still unconscious. Another man, Eugene Kesner, Keyser, was injured in the accident and was reported as "improved" at the hospital.

The Unwelcome ● Mr. Khrushchev

Almost on the anniversary of his first and last appearance in the United States, Nikita Khrushchev is trying to drum up enthusiasm for a return trip to the Western Hemisphere. His open hints for invitations have been noticeably short of takers.

If the burly little man's hide were not so thick, his frustrations by this time would probably have popped his safety valve.

It could normally be concluded, after what he has said about Americans and the President since the spirit of Camp David blew over like so much fog, that Khrushchev would have little desire to book a return engagement. But when one openly invites himself to visit a string of distant neighbors only to have the welcome mat pulled out from under him, what is there to do but go back to one's old haunts?

It all began when Cuba decided it would be a wonderful event to have Nikita visit Havana. Nikita thought so, too, but couldn't he make a tour of some of the more important Central and South American capitals while in the neighborhood? He was available to do so, he said. But the invitations failed to follow.

This does not deter the self-effacing Russian. He first suggests opening the coming United Nations General Assembly meeting into a summit conference on disarmament. That's what he said—a summit conference. He next says he would be most happy to help the Mexican government celebrate its 150th independence anniversary next month.

Whether Khrushchev goes to Havana and then home, or lingers in Mexico City and New York, the American people cannot be expected to display any of the cordiality shown the Kremlin dictator on his visit last year. It would be ill advised for him again to don the sheep's clothing of earnestness, friendship and civility which was his garb on last year's visit.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Flag And Anthem

It may be corny, but a flag exists as a symbol of the nation. Similarly, the National Anthem of any country is sung as a mark of respect. When a large, public gathering is assembled for whatever purpose, the flag should be present as a symbol of national unity.

I was told a story recently which I do not know to be true: therefore I omit names and places. It concerns an American composer who was conducting an orchestra at rehearsal. He was apparently disturbed by a carpenter putting a flag in position. Angriily he turned to the carpenter and said: "Take that thing away or I won't play."

The carpenter walked to the podium and told the great composer: "I don't give a damn whether you play or not, but if you call that flag a thing, I'll lay you flat."

It would have been a front-page story if the carpenter had laid the conductor flat. Perhaps we might have played Berlioz's "Requiem" in his memory. The significance of my tale is not whether it is true, which I do not know, but that it is in the gossip as an example of the resentment that lack of patriotism and internationalism is arousing in circles which once were sympathetic to the "One World" idea. There are so many worlds today, that even the heavy financial supporters of anti-patriotism are turning to faith in and respect for their country.

Some of us who go to concerts have been asking why the National Anthem does not open performances in this country as it does in most others. Various replies are given. One is that "The Star-Spangled Banner" is such unmusical music. Is it less musical than "God Save the Queen" which is our "America"? Yet Sir Thomas Beecham opens concerts with "God Save the Queen" and I even listened to him conduct "The Star-Spangled Banner" at Carnegie Hall.

Up at Tanglewood, it was explained to me that it might offend some if the National Anthem were played. My answer to that was utterly and completely vulgar. The offended ones could, of course, stay away. In fact, they should be asked to stay away.

I am usually opposed to laws regulating taste but we need to consolidate the nation behind ideals and symbols. We are neither an imperialistic nor an international society—we are a nation.

Our young people need to be made conscious of our nationalism. They need to be made to feel their affiliation with their own country. The flag and the National Anthem are initial steps in that direction. During wartime, the National Anthem is played everywhere, in theaters, at concerts, wherever people are gathered.

Why not always? Who issued the edict to stop playing it? If the thousands who go to baseball games and prize fights can rise to the National Anthem, those who go to theaters, concerts and movies can do the same thing. The stuffy superior persons who are citizens of a nation only to have a passport to go elsewhere need not concern us. They do not belong.

Some always try to run away from reality. If they are born into one religion, they try to get into another. If they are nationals of a country, they seek to delude it. I was once told by a foreign lady that she did not always understand some Americans. She said that she had been advised by a very fine lady not to be seen too often in restaurants and night clubs with too many Jews. She said that she was told that it wouldn't do her any good. But, she answered, "I knew your father intimately. Was he not a Jew?"

So it is with Americans who think that they are internationalists—except for the passport. They are running away from things—like the girls who clip pieces of their noses. Perhaps the new nose is prettier but does it fit the old face? It is like so much name-changing which is a current fashion. A man who loses a noble grandfather by changing his name has lost more than he immediately realizes.

An American belongs to the leading nation on Earth. If that does not mean enough to him to fly his flag and sing his National Anthem, he ought to find a flag and song that could please his barren soul.

'What About My Feet?'

Will The Catholic Voters Help Kennedy?

NEW YORK

The drama of the Catholic voters and Sen. John F. Kennedy is likely to be more complicated than most people suppose, and the outcome may be less satisfactory for the Democratic nominee than most people now expect.

This is the unavoidable conclusion, at any rate, which emerges from the results of a long and intensive round of doorbell-ringing in the Parkchester Apartments. These vast, rather pleasing red brick blocks of lower-middle income housing are a good hunting ground for anyone interested in the voting attitudes of special groups.

Something like 12,000 families inhabit this island in the wilds of the Bronx created by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. The rule is that each tenant's name is on his door. The name itself will usually indicate the group that the tenant belongs to. Thus you can get any sort of sample you want, simply by ringing doorbells with the right labels above them.

As previously reported, the trends among New York state's Jewish voters were tested in the Rosedale development in White Plains, with the able help of Oliver Quayle of Louis Harris Associates. At the Parkchester, therefore, Louis Harris and this reporter concentrated on doorbells with what looked like Catholic labels, with such success that fifty-nine Catholic voters were included in our sample.

This very large and representative sample, balanced in its racial origin, was particularly interesting for a special reason. It is no help to Sen. Kennedy, of course, to win the support of Catholics who are already loyal Democrats. For Kennedy, and for Vice President Nixon too, the vital question is whether Kennedy can win large numbers of Republican-voting Catholics back into the Democratic fold.

The great majority of these Parkchester people were in the Republican-voting Catholic group.

By Joseph Alsop

Most of them, to be sure, still retain their Democratic registration, and most of them no doubt still vote Democratic in the city elections.

Yet a fair number of them had not cast a Democratic vote in a national election since 1940. Still more had been voting Republican since the war. And in 1956, no less than forty-eight of the fifty-nine had supported Dwight D. Eisenhower, against only eight who had voted for Adlai E. Stevenson, and three who had not voted that year.

In other words, close to five out of six of these firemen and policemen and pharmacists and small salesmen and the rest had participated in the great Catholic migration from the Democratic to the Republican party, which has been one of the really major episodes of American politics in the last two decades. The earlier migrants, moreover, are now too strongly rooted in their new party to succumb to the pull of a Catholic Democratic Presidential nominee. Thus Kennedy quite naturally got the votes of the eight

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

SMOG MENACE — Los Angeles has become world famous, or rather notorious, for its eye-smarting smog, but the nation's capital is fearful that it is drifting into the same difficult situation.

The city of Washington has many of the same ingredients that have caused the West Coast city's difficulties. It is only a few feet above sea level with an extremely humid climate, and, like Los Angeles, its residents rely heavily on private automobiles for transportation to and from work.

Washington city fathers, and leaders of surrounding communities, have seen the handwriting on the wall and are beginning to survey steps that must be taken if Washingtonians are not to spend the future with redrimmed, teary eyes.

One nearby county is studying the possibility of an ordinance requiring the installation of anti-smog devices on all new cars sold in the area. Other surrounding counties and Washington itself are considering similar measures.

The Washington plan will be the subject of a public hearing later in the month. Air pollution is a real problem in Washington.

JUDGE SHORTAGE — A political fight has been holding up Congressional enactment of new federal judgeships for several years. Republicans have wanted to name their men to the posts to be created while Democrats have been holding back, hoping that an election victory this year would give them the patronage plums to dispense.

Before Congress recessed there was a general agreement to split the appointment equally between Democrats and Republicans, and a bill to provide from 25 to 34 new judgeships got started on its way through legislative mill.

But even this addition will not come anywhere near meeting the need, now estimated at 61 additional judges. While civil suits have increased with the population and the number of automobiles, there has been no similar rise in the number of judges available to hear cases.

As an example, the average case-load per judge is 270, but one District Court, in New Orleans, has 1,200 cases per judge.

Animals Eat Plants That Can Poison Humans

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There are more than 500 plants in gardens and fields that are potentially dangerous to animals and man. Some produce a rash when touched or irritation of the mucous membranes when swallowed. The remainder contain toxic substances that upset the intestinal tract or have a poisonous effect on vital organs when absorbed into the blood stream.

Our agriculturists and veterinarians know more about these problems than physicians do because domestic livestock are involved oftener than humans. Many of the cases of poisoning in man occur when an injurious plant or fruit is mistaken for an edible species. The young child does not know the difference. The leaves, stems, and unripened pods or berries of certain wild flowers and weeds can be most dangerous.

There is no substitute for experience in this field. According to Dr. H. A. Shoemaker, professor of pharmacology at the University of Oklahoma, numerous misconceptions are rife regarding plants that are toxic to man. Many persons believe that certain seeds and fruits are safe just because they are eaten by birds and animals.

This is no criterion for judging the safety of plants. The leaves of some members of the nightshade family, for example, are highly poisonous to man and some animals, but rabbits can eat them safely.

When dangerous fruits, seeds, or leaves are eaten, the treatment is the same as with any other poison. Encourage vomiting as rapidly as possible by putting a finger down the throat. Then drink two or more glasses of milk, plain water, or water containing salt or soda, and induce vomiting again. Absorption is delayed by the use of charcoal or the universal antidote (one part tannic acid, one part magnesium oxide, and two parts activated charcoal). Keep a sample of the toxic plant and show it to the physician when he calls.

TOMORROW: A new type of reducing pill.

Bill Feather, in a whimsical mood, cased the office of a small printing plant down South and discovered that the male members answered proudly to the following given names: Lum, Dub, Teel, Quince, Zack, Seph, Clem, Wash, and Slim. And oh, yes: the boss' name was Eustace!

Senator Goldwater Finds A Way To Campaign At Public's Expense

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Maybe Vice President Nixon and Sen. Jack Kennedy are missing a trick when it comes to the expense of election campaign travel. Their friend and colleague, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, until recently also a candidate for President, has found a way to travel by air and let Uncle Sam pay the bill—all because he's an Air Force Reserve officer.

Nixon and Kennedy are Naval Reserve officers, but so far have saved the taxpayers this expense.

What happened in Goldwater's case is that he flew in an Air Force jet trainer from Luke Field, Arizona, to Boise, Idaho, where he spoke before the Idaho Employers Council, chief spearhead of the right-to-work movement in that state.

Next day, Goldwater wanted to leave for Salt Lake City, also at the taxpayers' expense, in a jet from the Idaho National Guard, but Gen. John E. Walsh, commander of the National Guard, who had previously OK'd the flight, reversed himself. He decided that Goldwater was on a political trip, not a training flight.

The Senator from Arizona was fit to be tied. He protested to anyone who would listen to him, but especially to Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho. The governor ruled that General Walsh was right.

Meanwhile the Senator blew off steam publicly, denied that he had flown to Boise in an Air Force jet. This was absurd, because I have a picture of the jet with Goldwater alongside. Furthermore, the Air Force has now confirmed that Goldwater did fly from Luke Field to Boise, and that Col. James W. Chapman, in command of training at Luke Field, authorized the flight.

"Why was Senator Goldwater permitted to fly an Air Force plane on a political trip?" the Air Force was asked.

"The Senator is an Air Force Reserve officer and the Air Force is duty bound to honor the request of any Air Force Reserve pilot," was the reply.

"Even if he's going on a political campaign?"

"We can't ask a Senator the nature of his mission."

"Goldwater was then a candidate for President," the Air Force was reminded. "Suppose Kennedy, who is a Naval Reservist, and Nixon, who was in the Navy, want free airplane travel? What happens?"

"If they're pilots," replied the Air Force spokesman, "I suppose the Navy would grant their request."

"On the basis of this," I suggested, "the new enlistment slogan should be: 'Join the Navy and run for President!'"

There was no comment.

Note—The Idaho State AFL-CIO has passed a resolution censoring Goldwater for using government transportation to attack labor, and has demanded that the government collect the cost of the flight from Luke Field, Ariz., to Boise, Idaho.

Behind The Scenes

A lot of people speculated as to how Jack Kennedy would get along with his VP running mate, Lyndon Johnson. The latter is older, accustomed to making important strategy decisions and being his own boss. But Johnson tells friends he and Kennedy get along beautifully together. He says Kennedy listens carefully, makes up his mind quickly, gives instructions rapidly. "We're a team," says Lyndon. . . . Credit Doug Kennedy, editor of True Magazine, with either amazing luck or amazing insight. He published the inside story of U-2 pilot Francis Powers' flight over Russia on the same day Powers went on trial. The story gives the details of how Powers fought to get his plane started, after stalling at 70,000 feet; how he came down to thicker air around 35,000 feet, then was attacked by a swarm of angry Russian jet fighters. . . . Brig. Gen. Robert C. Kyser of the U. S. Army's Atlanta Depot, has been doing a good job of trying to enforce civil service rules in laying off government workers—despite a lot of cronyism on the part of a civil service itself. . . . Premier Fidel Castro has delivered a private threat to the Catholic Church that he will confiscate the property of foreign priests. This is aimed at the Spanish priests who comprise 75 per cent of the Catholic clergy in Cuba. Castro has boasted privately that the Cuban people would never follow the political advice of Spanish priests. Despite this, observers believe that the dramatic closing of all the churches could turn Cuba's Catholic population against Castro.

Key Trouble In Latin America

The mistake the United States has made in flooding Latin-American nations with arms rather than help for social reform, was highlighted the other day by President Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia in a conversation with Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

"Our greatest need is land reform," explained President Lleras, "yet the United States won't lend us a single penny for land reform."

"You'll give us dollars for jet fighters and tanks and army equipment," continued the president of Colombia, "but if revolution breaks out in the rural areas and spreads to the hills, all your jets and tanks will be useless. Cuba taught you that."

President Lleras referred to the fact that Fidel Castro fought for a year in the mountains of Cuba and President Batista was unable to defeat him. He also referred to the fact that the United States has almost forced arms on some Latin-American countries whether they wanted them or not. Meanwhile, up until last month we had refused any loans for land or social reform on the ground that we would be encouraging socialism. Last month this policy was reversed.

'The Fed's' Actions

By Leslie Gould

The Federal Reserve, which has an unenviable record of wrong guessing as to the stock market and business, is now saying business and the market need a shot in the arm.

The Reserve, in the short space of two months, has cut the discount rate twice, eased reserve requirements and reduced margins on stocks.

The discount rate is the interest charge on borrowing by commercial banks at the Reserve. This in turn sets the interest rates banks charge their customers. The latest reduction should result in a cut in the prime rate—now 5 per cent. This is the interest charged the top — or prime — borrowers.

The reduction in reserve requirements — the percentage of deposits the commercial member banks must leave with the Federal Reserve — added about $3.6 billion to the amount of available credit.

The cut in margins from 90 to 70 per cent makes it somewhat easier to buy stocks, but the change actually doesn't mean too much, for this is and continues to be largely a cash market. A more realistic margin would be 50 per cent.

The discount rate has just been cut to 3 per cent, the level prevailing a year ago last March. The Federal Reserve then was making money tight on the theory that the business boom was threatening to get out of hand. It made another increase last September to 4 per cent, which rate held until this June.

While the discount change will mean lower borrowing costs for business and for the U. S. Treasury, it is doubtful if it will have any influence on the business trend this fall. The time for business bolstering action was back in March for business and for stock market props in January and February, after prices had their big tumble.

Psychologically, the moves can have the reverse effect, raising doubts and thus making business men as well as investors more cautious.

Another thing the Federal Reserve is saying is that, in the board's opinion the inflationary pressure has — for the time being — been lifted. Thus, it is saying to business men there is no need to build up inventory, except to meet consumer demand. Yet, a major factor in the slowdown in business is the less than expected inventory buildup.

Long range, inflation is more than a threat. Government is heading for bigger and broader spending. This regardless of which party wins the White House.

Business' problem is not a shortage of credit and high interest rates, but the profits squeeze. This is very real. Earnings reports for the first half of the year tell that story — record sales, but unchanged or lower profits.

There no longer are any shortages and business finds it cannot pass on to the consumer the spiraling wage and fringe benefit costs being won by labor. The profits squeeze is also a factor in the stock market's disappointing performance.

Lower interest charges and more available credit will only be effective if there is a demand from consumers for more and more goods. This is a consumer economy.

An unfavorable side effect of the Federal Reserve's return to cheaper money could be a stimulation of the outflow of gold. The U. S. has lost about $374 million in gold so far this year, and $240 million of it in the last five weeks. Last year the country lost more than a billion on top of a $2 1/2 billion loss in 1958.

Part of the current loss is due to American dollars going abroad to take advantage of higher interest rates prevailing there. The Federal Reserve's action in cheapening money will spur this trend.

In Relief Stint;
Hoak Has 3 RBIs

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Don Hoak drove in three runs on a double and a sacrifice fly Wednesday night and Clem Labine turned in a superb relief job to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phils Wednesday night.

Labine, a 34-year-old free agent signed this week, preserved Harvey Haddix's seventh victory in a 3-2-3-inning relief stint in which he struck out six and retired nine straight batters. He allowed no hits. The Phils scored all their runs and six hits off Haddix.

Hoak smashed a two-run double to cushion a three-run Pirate outburst in the fourth inning. He flew out in the eighth inning to score Rocky Nelson with the Pirates' final marker. The Pirates got their first run in the opening inning when leadoff batter John Virdon doubled off starter John Buzhardt and scored after two infield outs.

The victory was the finale of the Pirates' 17-game home stand in which they won 13 games. Pittsburgh won its 71st game of the season and has exactly 40 more games to play.

The Phils got their first run when Tony Taylor opened the fourth on a double to left and took third when the ball skipped through Bob Skinner. He scored on Jim Coker's two-out single. The losers chased Haddix in the sixth inning when they added a pair of runs on singles by Ken Walters, Taylor and Bobby Gene Smith. Labine came in from the bullpen and yielded a walk to Coker to load the bases. Pinch-hitter John Callison hit into a force play to score Taylor.

Japanese Swimmer Is Hurt In Fall

ROME (AP) — Tsuyoshi Yamanaka, Japan's new 'flying fish,' suffered a slight bruise Wednesday when he slipped and fell on the wet marble of an Olympic swimming pool.

"It is nothing at all," said swimming coach Mitsui Ohta after he had taken the 21-year-old star to a nearby hospital for a check. Yamanaka was treated and released in a short time.

If the injury turns out more serious than thought and interferes with Yamanaka's training it could be a shattering blow to Japan's hope for a gold medal in the swimming events. He finished second in the 400 and 1,500 meter events in the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne and holds the listed world's record for the 400 meters.

B'nai B'rith Drops
Second Straight, 7-4

The Kiwanis Club upended the Lions, 7-6, in their opening meeting of a best-of-three semi-final playoffs while the Cumberland Optimists swept B'nai B'rith in two straight games, 7-4, in their playoff series in the Hot Stove League last night. The games were played as a doubleheader at Penn Avenue field.

Manager Bert Lawler's Kiwanians, who Monday battled back with six runs in the seventh inning to tie the Lions 9-9 in a nine-inning battle, won last night's replay by kayaking Rocky Klosterman early and hanging on to the triumph.

The win gives Kiwanis a 1-0 edge in the semi-final playoff for the right to meet the Cumberland Optimists for the Hot Stove title. The Optimists made it two in a row in their best-of-three semi-final meeting with B'nai B'rith last night after winning Tuesday's opener, 1-0.

Jim Diamond was the winning hurler for Kiwanis although he needed relief help from Wayne Jewell in the sixth. Kiwanis collected 10 hits off Klosterman and two relievers. Mike Kelly had a double and single and Larry Miller, Doug Shook and Wayne Jewell each obtained two hits for the winners. Wally Harper had a triple, single and home run for the Lions.

Howard Reynolds won his 10th game of the season for Cumberland Optimists with a five-hitter against B'nai B'rith. Reynolds was troubled with his control, walking six men, but he whiffed 14. Tony Scaletta had two hits for the winners off losing pitcher Allan Cross. Scaletta also made the fielding play with a diving catch of a line drive in centerfield which broke up a B'nai B'rith rally in the fourth. Billy Lueck and Larry Zimmerman each hit a double for the Optimists. Vinnie Delagrangie tripled and singled and Bubba Peck had two singles for B'nai B'rith. The scores:

Elorde Kayoes Gomes In First Round To Retain Crown

Junior Lightweight Champ Challenges Brown For Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Flash Elorde of the Philippines struck like lightning with a pair of lefts Wednesday night to knock out Harold Gomes in the first round and retain his world junior lightweight crown.

Elorde, backtracking through the first minutes, reached out with a rapier to the heart and followed it with a left to the chin and Gomes, from Providence, R.I., went to the canvas for a seven count.

As he got up, the Filipino fighter rushed in for the kill.

A left and a right to the head and then another left and Gomes sank to the canvas in his own corner. He was counted out by referee Matt Zidich after one minute and 20 seconds of fighting.

Astonishing Ending

It was an astonishing ending, and it surprised even the big band of Elorde's Filipino followers in Civic Auditorium who had come to root for their countryman.

Elorde had won the crown earlier this year from Gomes in a bout at Manila. In that one Elorde knocked down Gomes in the second round and the bout was finally stopped in the seventh.

Gomes blamed the defeat at that time on the heat. "It will be different this time," he said before he climbed into the ring Wednesday night.

Elorde didn't even work up a sweat Wednesday night. He left the ring without a scratch and was grinning from ear to ear.

Gomes had taken the lead as the fight opened. He landed the first blow—a straight punch to the chin. Elorde, meanwhile, was backing up, waiting his chance.

Suddenly Squares Off

With Gomes following him, Elorde suddenly squared off and lashed out with the left to the heart that slowed the challenger. He followed it with a southpaw swing to the jaw that sent the Rhode Islander reeling to the canvas.

Gomes was up at the count of seven, but Elorde was on him like

Ritter's Cop Second Place

Defeat Celanese Tossers, 3 To 1

Ritter's A.C. clinched second place in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday by turning back the Celanese, 3-1, at Celanese field.

The triumph was the 15th of the season for Ritter's as Glenn Kauffman outpitched Nile Shuck, keeping the Celanese aggregation from nailing down a playoff berth.

The Celanese lead over Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Knights of Columbus in the battle for fourth place was reduced to one game by the loss yesterday. The VFW team has won the pennant and the Moose has earned at least a tie for third place in the standings.

Kauffman picked up his 13th pitching victory with a three-hitter, scattering singles by Davis and Irish and a double by Warner over the seven-inning route. Leo Rhodes, Jack Martin and George Geatz each obtained two hits for Ritter's. One of Geatz's blows was a two-bagger.

Fred Comer starred afield at third base for Ritter's, handling 10 chances without a miscue.

The scheduled game between the league-leading VFW and the Elks was cancelled by mutual agreement of the teams and will not be played. The score:

Celanese	000 001 0-1 3 1
Ritter's	200 001 x-3 10 2

Nile Shuck and Don Harden. Glenn Kauffman and R. Ritter.

a tiger. The Filipino pummeled Gomes' head and face at close range and then backed away for a long range swing.

Another right and left to the head spelled the end for Gomes and he fell face downward to be counted out.

Immediately after the fight Elorde demanded a shot at lightweight champion Joe Brown's crown.

Old Timers Day Planned

Exhibition Game Set At Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—About two score former New York Yankee and Washington Senator stars, including outfielder Joe DiMaggio and pitcher Alvin Crowder, are lined up to participate in a three-inning exhibition game Saturday at Griffith Stadium.

The abbreviated contest will highlight the Washington club's second annual Old Timers Day. It will start at 12:30 p.m., as a preliminary to the regular Yankee-Senators game at 1:30.

The Senators announced Wednesday that DiMaggio will be teamed with his Yankee outfield mates of the late 1930s, Tommy Henrich and Charlie Keller. Other former Yankees listed include catcher Bill Dickey, Frank (Home Run) Baker, pitchers Lefty Gomez, Red Ruffing and Johnny Murphy, and infielders Frank Crosetti, Phil Rizzuto and Bill Werber.

In addition to Crowder, winner of 50 games in 1932-33, old Senators will include pitchers Bobo Newcom, Dutch Leonard, Firpo Marberry and Jim Shaw; infielders Buddy Lewis, Zeke Bonura, Sherry Robertson and Ellis Clary; outfielders Sam West, Roger Cramer, George Case and Stan Spence, and the clowning coach, Nick Altrock.

Joe Cronin, now American League president, will manage the Senators.

Banks' 34th Homer Beats Dodgers, 1-0

Hobbie Is Victor Over Don Drysdale

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ernie Banks smashed his 34th homer of the season here Wednesday, breaking a ninth-inning scoreless tie and giving the Chicago Cubs a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Banks' homer, a well hit shot into the left center field bleachers, came on a first pitch off Don Drysdale with one out in the ninth. Drysdale allowed only three other singles and struck out eight while taking the loss, his 13th.

Right-hander Glen Hobbie earned the distance for the Cubs to earn his 11th victory. He scattered seven hits, three of them to center fielder Tommy Davis who stretched his batting streak to 17 games, longest by a Dodger this year.

It was Hobbie's third shutout of the year and second against the Dodgers.

Prior to the ninth, the Cubs never even had a runner as far as second base. Their other hits were a pair of singles by George Altman and another single by Richie Ashburn.

The Sports Patrol

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sugar Ray Robinson said, "Everything would be okay if my partner would only give me my $514,000."

"Your partner?" asked a surprised reporter.

"Yes," replied the former middleweight and welterweight champion as he relaxed in a tip-back swivel chair behind his glass-topped office desk, "I said my partner—my partner Uncle Sam."

Debonair Ray, in dark blue sports shirt and matching slacks, explained that the government is still holding more than a half-million dollars that he should have received as a purse from his first fight with Carmen Basilio at Yankee Stadium Sept. 23, 1957.

"Is that why you have to keep on fighting now, at the age of 39?" asked the reporter.

"I'm not fighting now because of money," slender Ray assured. "Of course, I could certainly use the money, like every man who's in business."

"I'm fighting because of pride. I want to become undisputed middleweight champion of the world again before I retire. I'm determined to win the NBA part of the crown from Gene Fullmer at Los Angeles on Oct. 8, and then take the rest of the title from Paul Pender later."

Why is the government holding up his $514,000? Does he owe a big backlog of income taxes? Robinson insisted that he keeps "just about even" with the Internal Revenue Service on his income taxes, and that his 1957 purse is being held up because of the "Joe Louis affair"—to prevent his ever getting $1 million in arrears like Joe did.

"I fought Basilio at Yankee Stadium for the International Boxing Club," he continued. "That was before the IBC was broken up as a monopoly. And I had a deal with the IBC to spread my pay-

Hall Of Fame Rules Okayed

Change Is Made In Vote Method

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The new rules for election to the baseball Hall of Fame by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America were approved Wednesday by the directors of the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

The important change is in the case where no player has received the required 75 per cent of the votes cast.

Under the new rule, a supplemental ballot will be issued containing the 30 candidates who have received the most votes. The writers will select five and the player with the highest number of votes will be elected provided he has been named on at least 75 per cent of the second ballot. On the original ballot, the writers will name their top ten choices.

Should two or more candidates finish in a tie for most votes on the supplemental ballot, and each has received at least 75 per cent, both or all will be elected to membership in the Hall of Fame.

How to get $1,000⁰⁰ for working 15 minutes a day

Fifteen minutes goes by pretty fast. But, if you put aside the money you earn in that time, in just one month (assuming you make $100.00 a week), you'd have enough to buy a $25.00 Savings Bond.

Keep it up for 40 months and you'll have Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity. Save 30 minutes pay a day, and in 40 months you'll have a stack of Bonds worth $2,000 at maturity.

What makes it even easier for you is the Payroll Savings Plan. Your Bond balance grows every month—and you hardly know you're saving.

SOME ADVANTAGES YOU MIGHT THINK ABOUT

You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan. Tell your company how much to set aside from your pay for Bonds. This way you won't forget to save and your savings will add up automatically.

You now get $3\frac{1}{4}\%$ interest, to maturity. This new rate, which went into effect June 1, 1959, makes your Bond money grow faster. Series E Bonds now mature 14 months earlier than before—in just 7 years, 9 months. Bonds bought before June 1, 1959, earn more, too—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from then to maturity.

You can get your money, with interest, any time you want it. Bonds are a ready reserve that you can cash any time at any bank. But it pays to keep them.

Your money is guaranteed by the U.S. Government. Bonds are an absolutely riskless investment. The Government promises you that the cash value of your Bond will not drop—it can only grow.

Your money can't be lost or stolen. The Treasury will replace your Bonds, free, if anything happens to them.

You save more than money. You help save the peace. Every Bond you buy helps keep our Nation and our Nation's economy strong.

Here's how you can reach your savings goal with U. S. Savings Bonds in just 7 years, 9 months

If you want about	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000
each week save	$5.45	$10.85	$21.70

Kelly Employees Return To Work At Local Plant

Union Accepts Wage Proposal

The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant, strike-bound since Friday at midnight, will be back in full operation today at 7 a.m. with the exception of Department 56 (Tube Room) which will resume at 3 p. m., company officials announced last night.

Yesterday afternoon members of Local 26, United Rubber Workers, AFL-CIO, voted to accept the company's latest proposal on the wage issue. Many workers were to go back to their jobs at 11 p. m. yesterday.

The strike resulted from a dispute over a wage increase being negotiated under a reopening clause of the present contract which is effective until May 11, 1961.

Alva C. Lewis, president of the Local, said that "more than likely" the agreement between the company and union may be signed sometime today.

Wage Boost Granted

Hourly-paid employees will get a 9 1/2-cent wage boost with an additional 5 1/2-cent increase being given to the workers in the engineering division.

Nearly 1,000 of the 1,800 union members attended the special meeting yesterday afternoon in the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street.

The meeting lasted slightly over an hour. Acceptance of the latest proposal was almost unanimous, with a few dissenting votes from the membership.

Mr. Lewis pointed out yesterday that the strike had resulted from a dispute over the incorporation of a general wage increase into the piece work structure.

A regular meeting of the union will be held on Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the Union Hall on North Mechanic Street, said Mr. Lewis.

Many Are Back At Work

All engineering division employees resumed full operations on third shift at 11 p. m. yesterday, company officials said.

Meanwhile the following third shift operations resumed full operations at 11 p. m. yesterday:

Department 21, raw materials and maintenance stores including electric trucks; Department 32, mill room including electric trucks; Department 37A, cement house; Department 02K, control laboratory; Department 91A, janitors; Department 08B, first aid; and the cafeteria.

Departments which resumed partial operations at 11 p. m. yesterday included Department 43, tread room, white sidewall tuber, ten-ten tuber, including electric trucks assigned to these units; Department 44-1, shipping, all operations except sort, load and label; Department 91D, elevators, Number 1 and 17 elevators only.

Fair Paddock Now Looks Like Camp Ground

The paddock at Fairgo, where the horses used to parade before each race, looks like a camp ground this week and the Girl Scouts of the Shawnee Council have made the change.

Four tents have been pitched in the area and each day the Girl Scouts from a different troop have cooked their supper on the grill and handed out refreshments to visitors.

Mrs. Aden Everstein, president of the council, has been in charge of arrangements. Women from a number of communities of the tri-state area are providing the adult leadership for the Girl Scouts. Between five and 18 girls have been on duty at the special fair exhibit all week.

Women who have assisted so far include Mrs. Alvin Kreiling, Frostburg; Mrs. Virginia Breighner, this city; Mrs. Jane Zimowski, this city; and Mrs. Alberta Beeman, Frostburg. Today women from the Tri-Towns will be on the job. Tomorrow, Mrs. Rosemary Barr of Romney will be in charge.

Echo Satellite Spotted Here

The Echo balloon satellite was sighted over Cumberland last night as it made a long, sweeping pass from the southwest to the northeast shortly after 9 p.m.

One observer said the satellite appeared quite bright and was visible for more than 10 minutes.

The Echo was due to make another pass last night. Its schedule for today: 1:17 a.m., rising in northwest, setting in east; 3:22 a.m., from northwest to southeast; 5:27 a.m., from northwest to southeast; 8:44 p.m., from southwest to northeast; and 10:48 p.m., from southwest to northeast.

It will make another crossing, from west to east, at 12:54 a.m. Friday.

Rich Attacks Blue Cross Survey Results

BALTIMORE (AP) — A controversial survey implying that some Maryland doctors misuse hospital facilities to collect patients' hospitalization insurance drew fire from new points Wednesday.

John B. Rich, president of the Maryland Hospital Council, told State Insurance Commissioner F. Douglass Sears the poll was financed "by special interest groups — the radiologists and pathologists."

In a letter to the president of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty Dr. Paul Cohen of Snow Hill said that "these findings have smeared every physician in the state."

The survey was made public at a recent hearing before Sears on a Blue Cross request for rate increases ranging up to 33.4 per cent.

The Medical and Chirurgical Faculty, of which Dr. Whitmer B. Firor is president, released the survey that said that 75 per cent of the doctors polled by a New Jersey firm believed that Blue Cross was being misused.

Earlier in the week, R. H. Dabney, director of the Maryland Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans, recommended to Sears that doctors found guilty of such misuse be denied hospital privileges. Dabney also suggested that subscribers involved have their insurance coverage cancelled.

Rich said it was "unfortunate that a shadow should be cast over the entire medical profession... by the partial publication of an 'opinion survey' financed by special interest groups — the radiologists and pathologists."

Rich said Maryland doctors have a "national reputation for excellence in integrity which should not be tarnished by a non-factual survey."

Dr. Cohen, in his letter to Dr. Firor, said "these findings have smeared every physician in the state, the innocent with the guilty."

"As far as I am concerned," Dr. Cohen wrote, "the survey is suspect. The medical society did not pay for it. The radiological society did."

Radiologists and pathologists have sought to have their services covered by Blue Cross and Blue Shield policies.

Attorney Urges Slash In C&A Rate Increase

McClean Would Cut Return To 6.5%

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — A public utility consultant suggested Wednesday that a proposed rate boost of Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. be cut from $833,000 to $419,547.

E. Edward McClean, serving as consultant to People's Counsel Rudolph A. Carrico in the case before the Public Service Commission, also suggested limiting the company's return on its Maryland investment to 6.5 per cent.

C&A has asked for permission to raise its rates to 21,000 customers in Allegheny and Garrett counties by $833,000 a year. The company said this would provide a return of 6.8 per cent, although only $414,000 would be additional income. The rest would be spent for federal and state taxes.

McClean testified as opponents of the proposed rate increase presented their case. Appearing for 11 Western Maryland businesses and industries, who are intervenors in the case, were consultants Melwood W. Van Scoyoc and Louis F. Cesaletti.

Avirett Wants Time

John W. Avirett II, C&A attorney, said since he had not received the arguments of Van Scoyoc and Cesaletti far enough in advance, he would need additional time to study them before being able to cross examine the witnesses. The PSC set Sept. 12-13 as the dates for winding up the hearing, which opened June 22.

McClean said the C&A was using a "hybrid rate base" to determine the value of its property.

He said about 50 per cent of the rate base, or that for the distribution plant, was figured on original cost. The other portion, or that for production and transmission, involved a combination of (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

Westernport Road Survey Under Way

A Maryland State Roads Commission survey crew has been busy in Westernport on the initial work of the proposed improvement work on Maryland Route 36 in that community.

A spokesman for the SRC said the relocation of the highway through Westernport will be in line with requests made some time ago by town officials.

The purpose of the plan is to keep to a minimum the necessity for razing properties in Westernport for the construction of the proposed highway relocation.

Last month plans of the SRC to alleviate the highway traffic "bottleneck" were placed at the top of the priority list when State Senator Charles M. See, members of the Allegheny County delegation in the House of Delegates and the County Commissioners met to discuss improvements needed on secondary roads of the county.

In April town officials of Westernport expressed approval when the SRC outlined details of a new plan for improving the route.

John B. Funk, SRC director, attended the meeting with town officials and interested county officials. The newest plan, Funk said, would mean a saving of $300,000 and would eliminate the need for taking a number of homes and businesses for the road modernization.

Airman Completes Mechanic Course

He was graduated from Fort Hill High School in 1958 and went to Sheppard AF Base, Lackland, Texas where he began his basic military training.

Planning Unit Approves Two Street Projects

Plan Recommended To Mayor, Council

City Engineer Charles Nuzum's plan to interconnect Grand Avenue with the new Industrial Boulevard in South Cumberland was approved last night during a meeting held in City Hall.

Albert S. Paye, 825 Gephart Drive, chairman of the commission, said the commission is recommending that the Mayor and Council consider the plan.

The commission is also recommending that the Mayor and Council consider the interconnecting of North George Street with Frederick and Bedford streets, plans for which have been in possession of the city for some time.

Much of the meeting last night was devoted to the discussion of the urban renewal program offered to all cities by the federal government, Mr. Paye said.

Earlier this month the newly-constituted board took under consideration proposals made by the South Cumberland Business and Civic Association that the city construct a two-way street between Fifth Street and Laing Avenue in the vicinity of Grand Avenue to link the Industrial Boulevard.

Also considered at that time was that Massachusetts Avenue be the first street opened between the two lanes of the Boulevard.

Other commission members who attended the meeting last night were George A. Holler, secretary, James Alfred Avirett and Stanley E. Zorick, and Mayor J. Edwin Keech, ex-officio but not voting member, along with the city engineer.

Fair Matinee For Children Planned Today

The 43d annual Cumberland Fair moves toward its conclusion with the second of its children's matinees at Fairgo this afternoon.

Traditionally, the Thursday matinee is better attended than the Tuesday matinee, apparently because interest in the fair generates as the week progresses. It is usually the largest daytime crowd of the week.

A free matinee performance by the Hollywood Water Frolics is scheduled in front of the grandstand, starting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. There also will be an evening performance of the water show, which continues through Saturday night. Guest of honor at tonight's presentation will be Miss Judy Burns of Moorefield, W. Va., who is serving as the West Virginia poultry queen.

Tomorrow night, Miss Kay Stullenberger of Elk Garden, W. Va., the Mineral County farm queen, will be the honored guest. She is one of the five candidates for designation as "Miss Fairgo."

The annual 4-H tractor driving championship will be determined in the contest starting on the track in front of the grandstand at 12:30 p. m. today. Whether it will be finished before the water frolics' matinee remains to be seen. At any rate, one of the anticipated 15 contestants will win county honors and the right to compete in the state fair at Timonium.

Cattlemen Get $3,419 At Fair

Big Premiums Due 18 Owners

Some $3,419 in premium money will be distributed among 18 cattle exhibitors at the 43d annual Cumberland Fair, when the week-long activity comes to its close.

Fair officials point out that the livestock exhibitors have greater expenses than most other exhibitors because they have to feed their stock all week and have to transport them some distance to get here.

Biggest money winner among the cattlemen is S. Braden King of Boonsboro, in Washington County, who won a total of $393 for 35 premiums. Three others won more than $300 each. Samuel J. Diehl, RFD 4, Bedford, Pa., will get $321; N. B. Merryman of Cockeysville, Baltimore County, $313, and William D. Powell and Sons, Walkersville, $301.

Cattle Winners

Other cattle winners are William I. Shank and Son, RFD 3, Hagerstown, $291; Ralph A. McCauley, RFD 6, Hagerstown, $265; George A. Stiles and Son, RFD 2, Boonsboro, $263; A. Doty Remsburg, Jefferson, Frederick County, $233; Donald Brooke, Pinto, $193; H. W. McElwee, RFD 3, Hagerstown, $192; Clyde Bonar, Burlington, W. Va., $162; W. G. Merrills, Clarksburg, W. Va., whose farm also is at Burlington, $157; Glen Savage Dairy Inc., Mt. Savage, $100; Francis B. Cosgrove, Westernport, $77; James F. Bowers, RFD 2, Keyser, $75; George William Smith III, RFD Midway, $35; Lloyd R. Diehl, RFD 4, Bedford, Pa., $23, and Nathan Stiles, Boonsboro, $5.

Cattle belonging to members of the Allegheny County Dairy Calf Club was judged yesterday by Robert Schabinger, extension dairyman at the University of Maryland. Grand champions were selected in the Guernsey, Jersey and Holstein breeds. However, none was chosen for the fourth dairy cattle breed, Ayrshire, or the three beef cattle breeds, Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn because there was only one exhibitor in each breed.

In Guernseys, James J. Robinson, Mt. Savage, showed the grand and junior champion female, William Loar of Rawlings exhibited the senior champion female, John Wildesen of Germania, W. Va., exhibited the grand and senior champion female in the Jersey breed while Mary Ann Cosgrove, Valley Road, showed the junior champion female. Sally Miller of Midland exhibited the senior and grand champion female Holstein. Her younger sister, Lois, had the junior champion female.

Wildesen Wins

After the 4-H cattle was judged, there was a fitting and showing contest in two divisions. John Wildesen of Germania won first prize in the senior division, followed by Edward Miller, Midland, second; Pauline Miltenberger, Ridgeley, third; Louis Miltenberger, Ridgeley, fourth, and Jay Steger, Brice Hollow Road, fifth. There were eight contestants in the division.

Thirteen competed in the junior division. The winners were James J. Robinson, Mt. Savage, first; Joan Miltenberger, Ridgeley, second; Judy Miller, Midland, third; Jean Miltenberger, Ridgeley, fourth, and James Cosgrove, Valley Road, fifth.

There also was the 17th annual Future Farmers of America livestock judging contest yesterday. All six Allegheny County winners came from the Plintstone Chapter, advised by Robert Saville, and all five Garrett County winners from the Southern High School Chapter at Oakland.

Ronald Myers won the $8 first prize from Allegheny County and Dan Custer copped the $8 prize from Garrett County. Cyclist Hall Still In Jail

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Robert Hall, the rock 'n' roll singer whose ambition is to bicycle to Alaska, was still in jail here Wednesday.

Hall had gotten as far as Sidney on his projected cycle trip from Annapolis, Md., his home, to Alaska when he was arrested at the request of West Virginia authorities. They said he was wanted there on a grand larceny charge.

West Virginia officers have been expected here to return Hall to that state. He has waived extradition.

Baltimoreans Face Hearing In Man's Death

Local Woman's Husband Killed

Two youths charged with the slaying of the husband of a Cumberland woman last weekend in Baltimore are expected to get a preliminary hearing sometime within the next couple of weeks, authorities said.

Franklin Creamer, 49, husband of the former Geraldine Owings, died Sunday in St. Agnes Hospital in Baltimore. Mrs. Creamer is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Owings, 626 Columbia Avenue.

Arraigned earlier this week were Charles Davis, 21, who pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery but pleaded innocent to a charge of homicide; and James P. Ewell, 17, who pleaded innocent to both charges.

They are being held without bond pending the preliminary hearing, the date of which will be set by the state's attorney.

The victim, who was unemployed, the father of five children, was reported to have been beaten to death.

Baltimore police said Mr. Creamer suffered fractures of the skull, nose and jaw, brain injuries, head cuts and a stomach injury in a severe beating. He was robbed of a $20 watch and $21 in cash by his assailants.

Work Program To Be Set By Chamber Board

Directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Chamber offices. Plans for the Chamber's program of the coming year will be discussed.

The first item of business will be the election of a vice president to fill the unexpired term of Charles S. Cusick, former assistant manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 here, who has been transferred in the same capacity to the company's Works 4 in Ford City.

Consideration of the Chamber's program of work for the coming year will take up most of the meeting.

C. M. Sanner, newly elected president, will be in charge of the session.

In a message mailed to members, Mr. Sanner outlined a number of suggestions for the activity program. They include:

A Better Business Bureau to insure a high level of business ethics.

A joint committee composed of Allegheny County, Cumberland and Chamber representatives to study water resources planning for the area.

Better office facilities for the Chamber.

A new program for the Chamber's Sports Carnival week.

An area Chamber of Commerce to encompass the entire area, such as is now covered by the County United Fund and the Cumberland Industrial Development Company.

A civic center and/or park facilities to make citizens more proud of the community.

Adoption of an "Action Course in Practical Politics."

An hour later the check presentation will be made and the members will be guests of Father Kilgannon, who will treat them to a light breakfast in the church hall.
